In our 101 years of business, Dealers Supply has never felt the need to try to limit our liability. We have always assumed responsibility for property damage that is incurred due to our own negligence. We fully intend to continue this policy.

There is an area of property damage that can occur no matter how careful we are – broken driveways.

A driveway can appear to be structurally sound and look as if it is able to hold the weight of our delivery equipment, however it can still break when driven on. This is not due to our negligence. It could be the result of improper fill on the initial installation, water washing out the ground below, gas/water/power lines run under existing driveways undermining the substrate, absence of rebar or other reinforcement, tree roots growing under the driveway, etc...

Since there is no way to foresee these issues onsite, we feel the need to utilize a driveway release form. Once again, we would like to emphasize that we will continue to take care of any damage we may cause due to our own negligence.

Thank You

Dealers Supply Co.
